HOW WE DO IT

As community advocates the EPPC works with local businesses, organizations, and schools to provide education and training on prevention topics relevant to East Providence. The EPPC is dedicated to actively supporting the education and training we provide by advocating for policies that support the goals of health and wellness in our community. Once policies are in place the EPPC works with officials to ensure that these policies are enforced. The EPPC monitors its success through data collection and evaluation.

BECOMING INVOLVED

The EPPC welcomes all members of our community who are interested in the promotion of healthy lifestyles for residents of East Providence to get involved. Involvement varies from person to person, you can receive our monthly newsletter, participate in our events or programs, or volunteer your time to help strengthen prevention efforts in our community. Please contact our offices for more information 401.435.1923 or eppc@cityofeastprov.com

EDUCATION AND TRAINING

The EPPC offers a wide variety of education programs and trainings. From Responsible Beverage Service trainings for staff of Alcohol pouring establishments to theater performances for parent groups we are here to help

LEGISLATIVE CHANGE

Our goal is to ensure that quality policies are put in place to support the health and well being of all of the members of our community.

YOUTH PROGRAMMING

The EPPC has long supported youth programming both with its youth branch DICE and within the community at large. DICE is a group of young leaders who educate community members on current prevention topics, and participate in a wide variety of service projects.
